Did you do that long overdue inventory this summer and can't figure out why you own 3 ducted-fan units (and you don't fly jets)! Get a table, sell that stuff you "just had to have" and make room in that "special" box for the important things that you really need.

Bought that DLE20RA three years ago, but still don't have a plane it will fit? Well come on out! That red, white and blue Extra 300 that requires a 20 cc gasser is sitting on a table in the 4th row and you will hear it calling your name as you come through the door!
